ON A PERSONAL NOTE

Dr. Arya says she always wanted to be in medicine, and the chance to work with “smart, dependable doctors” is what drew her to HMF.

Like most physicians, she had her share of odd jobs. She earned her very first paycheck working at a donut shop, which had the added benefit—for a future doctor—of demonstrating the effects of too much dietary fat and sugar on her customers!

In college and medical school, she kept herself and others healthy by teaching step aerobics.

Today, she lives with her family in the San Gabriel Valley and enjoys spending time with her two children. “They remind me to have fun and enjoy everything I do. “
