

HUNTINGTON MEDICAL FOUNDATION

Chien Fang, M.D.

SPECIALTY

Internal Medicine

JOINED HMF

1995

SUMMARY OF EXPERIENCE

Before joining HMF, Dr. Fang served as a primary care physician at the medical group AMG and as a per diem physician at Gardena Community Hospital.

She has been a member of the Professional Staff Association at Harbor-UCLA Medical Center, and has taught at the USC School of Medicine.

EDUCATION/TRAINING

Chief Resident & Clinical Instructor
Harbor-UCLA Medical Center

Internship & Residency, Internal Medicine,
Harbor-UCLA Medical Center

Medical Acupuncture, UCLA
School of Medicine

M.D., University of Southern California,
School of Medicine

Member, Alpha Omega Alpha honor medical society

B.A., Biochemistry
University of California, Berkeley

Smith College
Northampton, Massachusetts

During college, Dr. Fang earned many scholarships and honors, including the Summer Oncology Fellowship at Childrens Hospital Los Angeles. In her free time, she played rugby.

MEMBERSHIPS

- American College of Physicians
- American Academy of Medical Acupuncture

LICENSURE

- State of California Medical License
- Board Certification in Internal Medicine
- Certified Acupuncture State of California

LANGUAGES

- English
- Mandarin Chinese
- Medical Spanish

ON A PERSONAL NOTE

Born in Taiwan, Dr. Fang lived in Australia and South Africa before settling in the U.S..

Her background and training allows her to approach medicine from both the Western and Eastern perspectives.

Dr. Fang enjoys primary care medicine because she gets to oversee the “big picture” for each patient, and often gets to care for multiple generations of the same family.